Franck Biancheri Award 2019***

- Open call -

Connecting AEGEE-Europe to its history!

Invent a programme inspired by AEGEE-Europe's founder

Be creative and get a chance to win 2,000 euros: apply now!

This year's topic:

Being Franck Biancheri in 2019... looking at 2040

What 20-year-ahead project would Franck Biancheri lay down today?

In May 2019, after 10 years of crisis, Brexit implementation and a risky European election, a new EU will be born.

A new Europe will require from European citizens to redefine their common interests and goals, and to adapt their methods to new realities if they want to keep/take a say in the model of society that's being proposed to them.

That's the kind of challenge Franck Biancheri couldn't resist to take up!

Let's imagine together what 20 year-ahead project he would lay down today!

As Aegeans, let's BE Franck Biancheri in 2019 with a view to the Europe we WANT in 2040!

Based on this rationale, what kind of event(s) could you imagine to propose AAFB for this year? Let loose your imagination!

\ This year the AAFB award will be organised within a special partnership with AEGEE-EUROPE and LEAP2020.*

Each year, the Franck Biancheri Award allocates 2,000 euros to the AEGEE-antenna with the most creative programme of Franck Biancheri-related activities. Be this antenna in 2019!

- Franck Biancheri is the founder of AEGEE-Europe.
- Under his presidency AEGEE-Europe played a key role in the adoption of the ERASMUS programme.
- This taught Franck that citizens were instrumental in the success of the European construction.
- Therefore he spent the rest of his life advocating the need to democratize European decision-making processes and general functioning.
- Unfortunately he passed away in 2012 at the early age of 51, too young to see his dream come true.

The Franck Biancheri Award was created in 2013 by the organisation now gathering his "Friends" (Association des Amis de Franck Biancheri) in order to encourage you to discover and discuss his ideas...

... because it belongs to us to take up the torch he lit up.

- ✓ Get familiar with his work (innumerable writings on the subject, many organisations he founded and ran (think-tanks, citizen organisations, political parties, etc...), countless innovative projects (congresses, websites, debate marathons, online elections, etc...)
- ✓ Discover his unique method of political anticipation to inspire your own vision 2040
- ✓ Build your innovative project and creative programme for a 1-week conference inspired by Franck Biancheri's vision for the future of Europe
- ✓ And get the fundings to run that programme!

➤ Requirements for the FB awarded antenna

- . a central event will be scheduled in order to gather local antenna members, wider AEGEE network, AAFB and LEAP members and special guests; This event should last 5 days (excluding arrivals and departure day, so in total 7)
- . the programme of this event should be given a Franck Biancheri “flavour”
- . FB Award logo should be posted on all antenna’s communication tools in 2019 (websites, social networks, leaflets)

Show us how you plan to highlight, discuss, circulate, implement, train to, play with... Franck’s legacy!

➤ Partners for the FB Award 2019

➤ The Franck Biancheri Award – A brief history

The Association des Amis de Franck Biancheri (Friends of Franck Biancheri Association – AAFB) is an association created in 2013 right after Franck Biancheri passed away, aimed at gathering, synthesizing, promoting, perpetuating and defending his work.

During the first year of its existence, AAFB knitted a privileged relationship with AEGEE-Europe, and together the two organisations launched a project aimed at connecting AEGEE-Europe to its founder, Franck, with a view to help build on his grand heritage. Hence the “Franck Biancheri Award” - granted each year to various AEGEE antennae – was born.

FBY 2014 in Delft: In 2014, the Franck Biancheri Year label was awarded to AEGEE-Delft which managed some fruitful events all along the year (meeting with AAFB nucleus members, dinner debate, organizing the Franck Biancheri Memorial Event...).

---

FBY 2015 – Special 30th anniversary: On this occasion, the official FB year was awarded to AEGEE-Paris for the organisation of one single event entitled “Europe in crisis – ERASMUS generation: Towards a democratic alliance”. But in addition to this, AAFB and AEGEE launched a special project with a view to revive one of the most important and successful event in AEGEE’s history: “The night of the 7 antennas” 1986.

- AEGEE-Aachen, AEGEE-Bergamo, AEGEE-Catania, AEGEE-Eskisehir, AEGEE-Kiyv, AEGEE-Leiden and AEGEE-Sofia have been part of this amazing event.

FBAward 2016 in Cluj-Napoca: In 2016, the Franck Biancheri Award was granted to AEGEE Cluj-Napoca and the YourVisionForEurope team which organized a most valuable conference on the theme “Borderless Europe: Blessing or Burden?” in Cluj-Napoca.

---

FBAward 2017 in Budapest: In 2017, the Franck Biancheri Award was granted to AEGEE-Budapest which organized a very valuable conference under the topic: “Education for the present, Democracy for the future” in collaboration with AEGEE-Europe’s Civic Education working group.

---

FBAward 2018 in Salerno: In 2018, the Franck Biancheri Award was granted to AEGEE-Salerno which organized a very appropriate conference under the topic: “Representation Needs Participation: European Elections” co-organised with AEGEE-Europe’s Civic Education working group, and different Euro-Caffe meetings in Salerno (It).

➤ The Franck Biancheri Award in 2019 – Quotes for your inspiration

« Either Europeans will be capable of unifying and will therefore continue to make a major contribution to humanity's progress, or they will not, and Europe will become a region of secondary zone countries whose civilizations will decorate the museums of the rest of the planet. We must build the European Community, otherwise Europe will soon be culturally Americanised, politically Finlandised and technologically Japanised »

« The AEGEE-EUROPE idea was therefore of a complexity far superior to that of a simple European student movement in the making. It did indeed possess some additional characteristics: – A powerful feeling of assuming a collective responsibility for the future of Europe – The certainty of being pioneers in a new type of European integration – A specific approach, that from the beginning we named "pragmatic utopianism", which pushes you to create means to serve your objectives and not to define your objectives according to the means in your possession. »

« As more animated discussion took place around the idea I defended that the classic pro-European topics such as "European institutions" or "The Role of the European parliament" or "Europe and Young People"... should not be dealt with within our symposia but that, on the contrary, we should concentrate on topics of interest to European students as students, and as young people. By dealing with these topics and by bringing in European students and participants, we would integrate the European dimension. While the first approach is immediately limited to those with a strong interest in Europe, the second encourages those who do not really feel concerned to take an interest in Europe. In European terms, and over the past 40 years, only AEGEE-EUROPE has succeeded in evolving from a sect to a mass movement. The most important thing was to make European students want to work together and to give them an instrument, EGEE-Europe, which would allow them to implement their joint projects »
